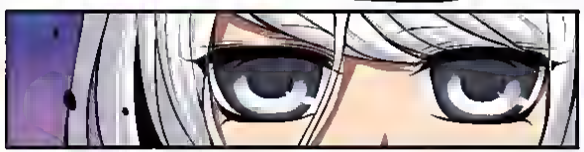
ACT72. A wish that won't come true

It pisses me off!
It just pisses me off! He's only just a human, and yet caused me to suffer such humiliation!!
I shouldn't have let him die so easily!

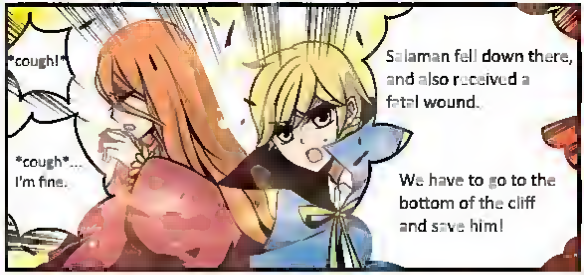
What are you looking at?!
Have you been laughing at me? Making fun of me, that I was humiliated?
You disgusting thing!!
Why haven't you disappeared yet?... Hurry and go die!

Without any feelings, and without any thoughts...
Just a doll that can move.
A thing like you, has no worth of existence!
I definitely won't accept the fact, that you are the same kind as me...

Forget it!
Talking to you is just a waste of time. I should think about... What will I have Sop do next.
It should be about time to have more interesting things happen, as the amount of dead humans is too less. It truly is downright boring.



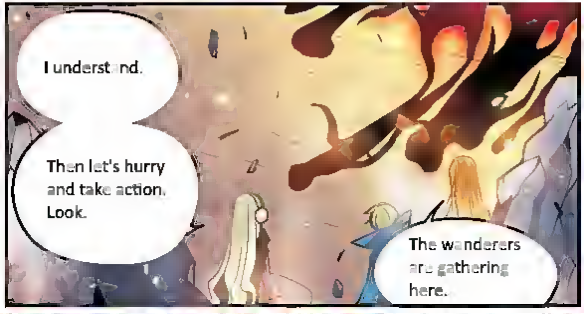
SFX: Rumbling x3



cough!
cough... I'm fine.
Salaman fell down there, and also received a fatal wound.
We have to go to the bottom of the cliff and save him!

The den is currently collapsing, and the exit is soon to be blocked. Are you really not going to quickly leave here first?

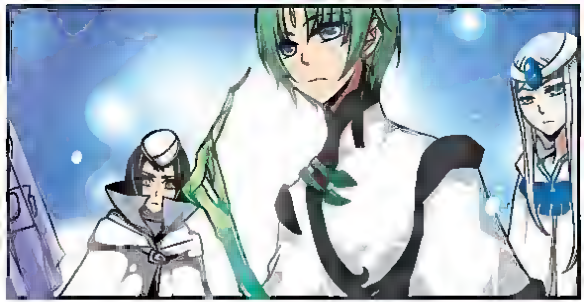
Even if we leave, we have to leave along with Salaman.

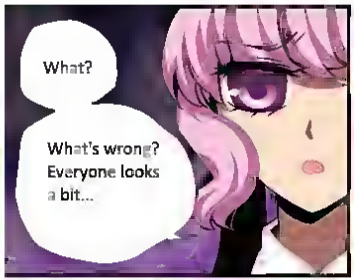


I understand.
Then let's hurry and take action. Look.
The wanderers are gathering here.

Kill and get past them!
Senior Yunyang...
No, Lord Sage of Forust. The sage here was actually you...
You wouldn't have thought right? Aisela.

Yes.
The senior here in front of me, is much more different compared to usual.
Hahaha ha...
The usual me is still me, but just who decided on the rule that sages must act proper.
...Much more than being surprised, I'm feeling more happy right now.
I originally thought, that the existence of sages was very distant...
Never knew that we could be that close.
I'll definitely work hard aiming to be a sage, with you as my goal!





What?
What's wrong? Everyone looks a bit...

Looks like the high mage haven't told her yet. Tsk tsk...

Wanting to become a sage, that wish is...

Tell me...
What are you guys talking about?
Big brother! The things the sages are talking about...
What do they mean?!
Aisela...
What we mean is------ That you can never become a sage, little girl.

Travis!
You------
What? She would eventually know about it anyway.
Sage of Earth
When and through what methods, to tell Aisela about this,
Should be decided by the high mage.
I ask of you to not interfere.
Hmph...
Listen to me, Aisela.

The "Ingrid Clan"------
Since the Forest Academy of magic was established
Has been responsible for managing the whole academy
This is our duty and our fate...
I know that!
But big brother, aren't you currently the headmaster...
Correct, however it would be passed on to you in the future... Aisela, you would walk the same path as mine...
Why?!
Because within our body, flows the same blood
The blood of the Ingrid clan, may only choose to succeed as the headmaster of the Forest Academy of Magic------
Or else become a regular magician.
We will...never be able to become a "sage".

Good Luck, Demon King!
